REAL TIME PROJECTS

Creating Audio Book Using Python

This application takes a book text file or pdf and converts it into an audio file and saves it in your system. This extracts the text from the pdf file and converts the text which is present in the pdf into the audio.

Self-Care Using Python

Using Python, by using some libraries, we had a digital software to monitor temperature, protein, vitamins levels in our body. This tells us how much amount of proteins, vitamins and water should be consumed in a day

I hereby declare that all the details furnished above are true to the best of my knowledge and belief.
